Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 22 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rather cloudy and cool today. Sunnier and warmer on Wednesday.

Today:
Cloudy with light rain and drizzle in the far southeast, mainly Kent and Sussex, during the morning. Becoming drier, although the cloud will be slow to break up during the day. Probably staying on the cool side underneath the cloud. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloud will thin and break to give a fine end to the day. Overnight will be dry with clear spells and turning chilly in some rural spots, with light winds. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Wednesday:
A chilly start in some rural areas, otherwise, it will be a fine and dry day with sunnier skies for many. Feeling warmer than on Tuesday, with light winds. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Largely fine and dry on Thursday, before rain or showers move southeast overnight. Further showers on Friday and Saturday, possibly heavy and thundery at times. Warm in the sunshine.
